Tim Sales is Master Distributor in ARIIX

If you haven't heard yet, you soon will. Tim Sales, MLM Guru, Expert and Most Respected MLM Trainer has come out of retirement to be the Master Distributor for ARIIX. Unlike his positions in the past, Tim Sales will now be building ARIIX as a Distributor and not getting a salary. He will actually be getting paid just like any other distributor in this soon to launch company.

If you don't know Tim Sales then be sure to follow closely he will be rocking this company and if there has never been a better time to join a company it is now.

Is this just another MLM start-up destined to fail like the 95% of all network marketing companies? Or could this quite possibly be a ground floor opportunity that could just very well launch you into financial freedom?

I am one of the first to start promoting this great opportunity and soon you will be seeing some well known names joining forced with Tim Sales, myself and other to build this amazing company.

To secure your position on my Team go to www.Join-ARIIX.com and I will be in touch with you.

Tim Sales is playing the ARIIX game to win....

Failure is not an option!

We could be looking at another Amway, Herbalife, NuSkin and ARIIX is poised to be just that, another great company in the MLM industry.

Here are some thoughts from Tim Sales himself about ARIIX.

Tim said that a person only gets to be stupid a couple of times in life and if they missed this opportunity they would have to be really stupid...so with that in mind let's see what Tim looked at to make his decision.

Criteria #1: Will the company go long-term?

The first place you have to look is track record. Companies don't build companies...people build companies. And people leave trails. Those trails are either filled with successes or filled with failures. ARIIX CEO Fred Cooper and ARIIX President Mark Wilson were the drivers behind building a $500 Million a year, well-respected, international company in Network Marketing. They have real experience working with a big time MLM company. According to Tim their track record is impressive.

Being well-funded is not the only requirement (Sounds like ARIIX had to turn money away, so it appears they are well-funded). But it is how a company manages or mis-manages three vital resources: Inventories, Employees, and Leaders.

Mismanagement of Resources: Mismanagement of inventories cause new companies to fail all the time in network marketing. ARIIX's Fred Cooper and CFO Jeff Yates know how to manage resources because they did it for a large network marketing company already. They know they have to sell all their inventory and pay all bills before they can turn a profit. Not only do they know this, but they know all the details on how to do it.

Employees: They have to put the right people in place to do the correct jobs yet not have too many employees so their overhead is too high. They have attracted a team that has over 60 years experience in network marketing from a corporate standpoint. These people have influence and they have a vision with the six founders of the company.

Leaders: Taking care of the network marketing leaders in the field is probably one of the most overlooked areas in network marketing. Too often when a company starts to make big money the company or owners become greedy and then it becomes the field vs. the corporate office. Distributors are managed with fear of losing their checks. Owners make huge profits and distributors have to scrap for six figure checks while owners make millions. Well no one knows how to manage leaders in the field better than ARIIX President Mark Wilson. He is very unique in his abilities. In addition to Mark, ARIIX COO Brent Jorgensen is connected to many top leaders in the network marketing industry and he is attracting them to ARIIX in record droves.

The company is also founded with a first ever Member Bill Of Rights which has such provisions as Right To Share In Profits, Right To True Ownership and Protection, Right To Share in the Fun and Incentives, and many more.

Criteria #2: Will the products sell outside the network?

Will the products attract customers instead of just distributors buying the products. If the products DO NOT sell outside the network then the furthest a network marketing company will make it to $100-$200 Million a year but most likely will not go above that.

ARIIX's goal is $10 Billion. The list of product experts that ARIIX is bringing to the table is quiet staggering and this all-star product team is going to get customers to reach for the products. People will demand the products and with that type of enthusiasm that cause all price objections to go away. According to Tim, ARIIX will have products that sell outside the network.

Criteria #3: Will I be well paid for my efforts?

There are many compensation plan experts in network marketing, but ARIIX CEO Fred Cooper is the guy network marketing companies go to in order to tweak their plans..and if a company can't get Fred to try to fix their plans they have to get a lesser expert. Fred realizes that by waving big checks you attract big leaders and big leaders need a big game to seduce them to build. Fred Cooper has ability to write this type of comp plan and the comp plan Fred put together for ARIIX is off the charts according to Tim. Tim said every "Big Leader" he has shown it to says.."Is this Real?" According to Tim Sales it is very real.

Criteria #4: Training and Marketing: Will the training produce an effective distributor?

Tim has seen too often the first step of any big MLM leader's training is to get rid of the company starter kit. That those kits put together by committee rarely work. Tim Sales is known for his training and his training will be part of the ARIIX starter kit. There will be two types of training. A home study course will be provided for those with little network marketing experience. Experienced network marketers will be able to plug right into the marketing campaigns that they want to move on promoting a certain product or business focus.

Marketing will also be proven through testing and passed down the line so distributors can have effective marketing that works without having to reinvent the wheel. Tim says this is where he will be spending a lot of his time to get effective campaigns out to the field.

As you can see from the above chat conversation this is exactly why Tim Sales has come out of retirement to join a company that he feels 110% confident about. Not much could get him out of retirement but ARIIX has the qualities that Tim Sales has been looking for to bring him out of retirement.

ARIIX has put together a winning corporate team and has combined the ultimate Network Marketing Winner, Tim Sales, which from appearance has the looks of hitting the top.
